Designed to bring down the narrative of sacred history from the creation of the world to the epoch at which Pridemore's work begins (Old and New Testament connected) ... from the declension of the kingdom of Israel and Judah to the time of Christ, London, 1716-18). The third volume ends with the time of Joshua; the death of the author prevented the publication of a projected fourth volume. Cf. Pref. to 3d vol. and M. Russell's preface to his Connection of sacred and profane history (intended to complete the works of Shuckford and Pridemore) London, 1827-32. The author's Creation and fall of man, a supplemental discourse to the preface of v. 1, forms v. 4 in some of the later editions. Cf. London.

Dedication signed Angelo Sicca.

"Catalogo delle più importanti edizioni della Divina commedia; estratto dalla Serie dei testi di lingua, di Bartolomeo Gamba ... ora dello stesso rivestito ed aumentato ...". p. 25-54.

Sicca's "Rivista" contains a list of more than 4,000 variants gathered from manuscript and from 20 editions of the Divina commedia. "The very casual and often trifling character of the variants given ... renders his work of very little value ... My experience of this work does not confirm the opinion 'veritas aequivo' given to it by Witte"—Edw. Moore, Contributions, p. xxviii.
